OKRA

The Oklahoma Recycling Association (OKRA) is a non-profit organization established to improve the business of recycling in Oklahoma. We provide a forum for networking, encourage local end-markets and work to create a unified voice for Oklahoma Recyclers. OKRA supports businesses, governments, communities and individuals in recycling.

Join In!

Recycling means many things to Oklahomans. Beyond resource conservation and managing solid waste, recycling creates jobs. Studies show that there are more than 5,000 jobs in Oklahoma created from recycling related processes. These jobs represent over 300 million dollars in payroll each year. Recycling conserves resources, saves energy AND is good for the economy in Oklahoma.

Why We Need You

OKRA is the organized voice for Oklahoma recyclers. We want to represent you to political leaders and decision makers. We are a center point for networking and resource sharing. The more we learn and share information about recycling programs and issues in Oklahoma, the stronger the network will be.

You Can Help!

OKRA members donate their time, money, and effort to help maintain statewide resources and increase recycling efforts throughout Oklahoma. Members also make a difference by expressing their views and concerns about recycling issues to local, state and national policy makers.
